College of Management Major Admission Requirements

Before you can be admitted to a College of Management major, you must complete, with grades of C- or better (or S), all College of Management Foundation courses. Because the Foundation courses develop the skills necessary for success in other courses required in the major, these course must be completed before admission to the major.

The Foundation courses are also prerequisites for many higher-level College of Management courses. Completing these courses early in your program will help you succeed and have the most valuable experience in other College of Management courses. Taking these courses will also help you decide if a College of Management major fits your interests and skills.

The Foundation courses required for most College of Management majors are:

- MATH 115: College Algebra, or higher-level math
- STAT 201: Statistics
- ACCT 210: Financial Accounting
- ECON 201: Macroeconomics
- ECON 202: Microeconomics
- MIS 100: Fundamentals of Information Technology in Organizations

You can meet these requirements in several ways: (1) by completing Metropolitan State courses, (2) through transfer courses approved as equivalent by the College of Management, or (3) by passing free waiver exams offered by the College of Management (available for the Accounting, Economics, and MIS courses listed above).

IMPORTANT NOTES

- Submit a major declaration form only after completing all Foundation courses.
- The M.I.S. major and all B.A.S. majors have additional requirements that must be met before admission to the major.
- The Economics major and some B.A.S. major programs have Foundation course requirements different from the list above. To see specific Foundation courses for a particular major, go to the College of Management website http://www.metrostate.edu/msweb/explore/com/undergrad/index.html and click on the name of the major you wish to explore. At the bottom of the major webpage, click on the link for Major Checklist and you will find the list of Foundation courses for that major. You can also click on the link to the Course Sequence to discover the sequencing of the courses.
