

RELIGIOUS STUDIES MINOR CHECKLIST

A minor in Religious Studies is a wonderful choice for students who major in liberal arts or in professional programs. A Religious Studies minor is helpful to those who prepare for a career in professional ministry, counseling, law enforcement, criminal justice, public administration, social work, human services, and in nursing. This minor is also a good compliment to those who major in history, philosophy, literature, media and communication, fine arts, ethnic studies, sociology, and political science, etc.

Religious studies minor curriculum includes one required and four elective courses which is a total of 19 semester credits.

Required Course:	Credit
RELS 301 Introduction to Religious Studies (four credits)	_____

Elective Courses: Students may choose from any overview or topic courses in Religious Studies. If students wish, they can also substitute one course from related courses in College of Liberal Arts listed below for an elective course in Religious Studies.

1. _____	_____
2. _____	_____
3. _____	_____
4. _____	_____
	Total Credits _____

Religious Studies Faculty Signature: _____ Date: _____

Student Signature: _____ Date: _____

Advisor Name: _____ Date: _____

Approved Related Courses:

- PHIL 308 Faith and Reason: The Philosophy of Religion
- ANTH 304 Anthropology of Religion
- HUM 310 The First Civilization
- HUM 313 The Medieval Civilization
- HUM 314 The Renaissance
- HIST 331 Religion and Politics in America
- HIST 531 Religion and Politics in America

Questions? Contact Professor Nantawan Lewis, RELS Coordinator, Ethnic and Religious Studies Department, at (651) 793-1432 or nantawan.lewis@metrostate.edu.