

HISTORY MINOR CHECKLIST and ADVISING NOTES

Effective Fall 2020 through Summer 2021

Advising Notes for History Minors

- A minimum total of nineteen (19) semester credit hours must be completed with a minimum grade of C- in each course. Students can transfer up to 8 semester credits with courses designated as history only. Each course can meet only one history minor requirement. HIST 301 is required.
- You can declare a history minor online and when you do, your Degree Audit Report (DARS) will show how courses you have taken count toward the history minor. You can double-check your progress by noting course numbers, titles, and semester/year in the checklist below. Your academic advisor, listed on your DARS, is a person related to your major, not your minor, so you should contact the chair of the History Department (history@metrostate.edu) with any questions you have about the history minor. It may be necessary to share your DARS with the chair of the History Department, which you can do by logging in to eServices and saving your DARS as a pdf which you can then send as an email attachment.
- It is strongly advised that students complete history courses in the order listed in the checklist: a lower-division history course, HIST 301, and then upper-division history courses. History courses require much reading and writing, so it is recommended to take a limited number of history courses per semester – no more than two is recommended.
- HIST 301 is currently offered in both fall and spring semesters.
- HIST 401 Topics Proseminar and HIST 490 Historian as Investigator may be used to fulfill upper-division credits as long as prerequisites are met. Additional offerings of HIST 401 may be used as upper-division electives, so long as each offering used is a unique subject. HIST 401 is currently offered in the fall semester and HIST 490 in the spring semester. HIST 401 and HIST 490 are required for the history major, so if a student is thinking of taking them, they may consider majoring or double-majoring in history and should consult their academic advisor and/or the chair of the History Department.
- It is also strongly advised that students complete all Writing classes (GELS Goal I) very early and that they take Information Studies (INFS) courses. INFS 115 and/or INFS 315 are recommended. INFS 340 was designed with history students in mind and counts for GELS Goal I.
- History courses count toward different General Education and Liberal Studies (GELS) Goal areas and/or for the Racial Issues Graduation Requirement and students may use a single history course to fulfill both history minor requirements and GELS and/or RIGR. All GELS and RIGR courses are listed separately in Metropolitan State's catalog: the 2020-2021 GELS course list and the RIGR course list. A student's DARS indicates whether RIGR needs to be fulfilled or which GELS areas need to be fulfilled, if any.
- Any upper-division history course may be scheduled as a faculty-designed independent study. Please, contact the chair of the History Department.
- The History Department encourages serious and disciplined history majors and minors to participate in internships which are well-designed and academically beneficial. The department allows one internship per student for academic credit. An internship will be counted as a 0.5-4 credit-hour history course (HIST 350I). Please, contact the chair of the History Department.
- What can you do with a history major or minor? The short answer is, anything. A good place to start thinking about history-related careers is the American Historical Association's webpages.
- Students are encouraged to talk with their academic advisor and the chair of the History Department early in their career at Metropolitan State and whenever they have a question and/or each term, and students should consult the catalog before registering for courses each term. Program requirements listed in the catalog take precedence over those appearing on this document.
