

Reformation and Restoration of Law Enforcement: The Role of Community and Social Movements

Panelists include:

Jeff Martin, Attorney and President of NAACP, St. Paul MN

Michelle Gross, President of Communities United Against Police Brutality, MN

Alicia Lucio, Community Organizer, Neighborhood House, St. Paul MN

Pastor Brad Froslee, Calvary Lutheran Church, Minneapolis, MN

4-6 pm

Thursday, February 18th, 2016

Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Education Center

Room 112

9110 Brooklyn Blvd, Brooklyn Park MN 55445

For more information, Contact Dr. Raj Sethuraju (raj.sethuraju@metrostate.edu)

Anyone with a disability who needs accommodations for this event or a publication in an alternative format should contact Disability Services at 651-793-1549 or disability.services@metrostate.edu.

This event is organized by Metropolitan State University's Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Studies Department with support from the Center for Faculty Development, the Institute for Community Engagement and Scholarship, and Student Services.